

CineVic 16mm Film Library

Category:

GILBERT TAGGART & WALT DISNEY

Label:

Purple

1 - The Four Seasons

2006. Produced by Gilbert Taggart.

10 min. 40 sec. Colour print in good shape, audio good.

A forest nymph comes to be and meets another. They mate and go through the four seasons of life. Stop animation made on a Bolex H16.

2 - The Little Forest

2001. Produced by Gilbert Taggart.

5 min. Black and white, sound okay.

A child's story that mixes non-animation with animation to tell a fantasy tale about beetles in a civic park.

3 - Morris the Midget Moose

1950. Produced by Walt Disney.

8 min. Colour print okay.

An animated film about a very small moose with large antlers that teams up with a big moose with small antlers in order to defeat the dominant macho moose Thunder Clap. A weird notion in the name of fifties entertainment.

4 - Smoking: The Choice Is Yours

1981. Produced by Walt Disney.

11 min. Colour print heavily pinked, audio okay.

Animated film about a friendly athletic young man who starts work at a dude ranch for the wealthy. He loses his influence/self esteem and sees that everybody around him smokes. He knows that smoking is bad but the thought occurs that he should cave in to social pressure for acceptance and he begins to smoke. A transformative dream and young woman help him to gain back his self respect and quit.

5 - What Should I Do? Lunch Money

1970. Produced by Walt Disney.

5 min. Colour print in okay shape, scratches.

Part of an animated series aimed at social skills for school kids. A girl's lunch money has been taken. A reaction from each child's perspective to the situation is played out.

6 - What Should I Do? - The Fight

1969. Produced by Walt Disney.

5 min. Colour print in decent shape.

Disney animation - During a quarrel we go into the minds of those involved to discern decision making skills and the appropriate reaction.

7 - What Should I Do? - The New Girl

1969. Produced by Walt Disney.

5 min. Colour print in good shape.

Animated childhood education film about how to react in certain situations with the new girl in school.