

Telefilm Canada is proud to promote and celebrate stories that reflect the diversity of voices and communities that make up Canada today. That is why we are happy to partner with the Short Circuit Film Festival to champion Canadian and Indigenous creators and their work!

Investing in films and reinforcing the importance of cinema is at the center of our mission. We do this at every stage of a film production's lifecycle, from pre-development to distribution and promotion. As well, it is through partnerships with festivals such as the Short Circuit Film Festival that Canadian stories continue to touch hearts, stimulate minds and help us explore our common humanity – bringing us closer together.

Festivals play an invaluable role in boosting the visibility of Canadian and Indigenous films, supporting the growth of the audiovisual sector. These events provide opportunities for networking and are a reminder of the unifying power of cinema.

We thank you for encouraging our stories and we invite you to watch Canadian and Indigenous films in festivals, in theatres or on your screens.

A handwritten signature in black ink, reading "Julie Roy". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large initial "J" and "R".

Julie Roy
Executive Director and CEO, Telefilm Canada